

ACADEMIC PROGRAMS

Curriculum Guides

To graduate, Lorain County Community College students must complete a minimum of 60 credit hours, exclusive of developmental education courses. Students planning to transfer are advised to consult with the intended transfer institution regarding any limitation on the number of transfer hours. Choices will require careful academic planning and advice. Students should consult regularly with an academic advisor while attending LCCC. The semesters indicated for the specific program courses are suggestions only. LCCC curriculum guides and transfer information for specific colleges are available in Enrollment, Financial, and Career Services division.

Curriculum guides outline all coursework required for a particular degree or certificate program. Curriculum guides are primarily used for two purposes:

- To provide students with a checklist that may be followed throughout their curriculum. By outlining all necessary coursework, a student may “check off” or “cross-off” courses that have been completed and then easily see which requirements remain to be completed.
- Curriculum guides are helpful to prospective students and students considering changing programs. They provide a resource for the courses and times involved with particular programs.

Program and Career Pathways (<http://catalog.lorainccc.edu/pathways/>)

Program and Career Pathway exploratory majors are designed for regularly admitted, degree-seeking students with an associate degree focus in mind but haven't narrowed it down to a specific major. This allows these students to explore areas of study such as business and entrepreneurship; education; health and wellness; science and math; etc. While in the exploratory major, students must meet with their career and academic advisement professional every semester to ensure proper course selection. Additionally, students are encouraged to engage in career exploration activities through their academic advisor or with a career development specialist in the career services area. Students may remain in the program and career pathway for up to 24 college-level credit hours. Upon achieving 24 college-level credit hours, the student will then be required to select a specific major.
