

TUTORING

Tutoring is free to enrolled LCCC students, including College Credit Plus and University Partnership students. Tutoring takes place in four locations based on the course in which students are seeking help:

- Tutoring Center, located in CC204 of College Center
- Math Studio, located in PS206 of Physical Sciences
- Writing Center, located in SC 217 of Stocker Center
- Lab Sciences, located on the second-floor lobby of Lab Sciences

Students are also welcome to stop by and study independently in any of the tutoring spaces!

Available for a variety of courses, tutoring complements classroom learning and provides academic support to students. Sessions include one-on-one appointments, drop-in times, and online appointments. Resources within Tutoring relate to various courses and subject matter, including practice problems, lab models, and digital skills. Students can improve their learning skills and build greater ease and confidence in the academic environment by using this resource. Detailed schedules and availability are available via the Accudemia platform. Students can also access eTutoring for help off campus in a variety of subjects.

Students are encouraged to check with Tutoring each semester for hours of operation, details of subjects offered, and other services. Tutoring can be reached by calling 440-366-4057 or 440-366-4065, emailing tutoringcenter@lorainccc.edu or visiting www.lorainccc.edu/tutoring/ (<https://www.lorainccc.edu/tutoring/>).

LCCC Writing Center

The English Success Coaches at LCCC's Writing Center (Stocker Center 217) provide comprehensive support for students in developmental reading, writing, and English composition. They also work as needed with students enrolled in advanced English courses or seeking assistance with their writing. Students can make an appointment by contacting Tutoring (<https://www.lorainccc.edu/tutoring/>).
